

Summary of learning from E-commerce website task on Claude:

Claude is an AI chatbot which helps in creating a fully functional website, it not only gives you the complete code but also generates an outlook of what output will be produced.

The main purpose was not just creating the website which is functional, but to also learn about the differences and functionalities of different chat bots.

Let's take chatgpt as an instance, chatgpt gives step-by-step instructions to perform a task but does not provide the facility of functional websites, it just guides you based on your requirements.

As our main focus is "Claude", I have learnt that it's far better than other AI chatbots in terms of functionality.

But, the main concern is the "Limit", which ends just after 2-3 prompts, otherwise it's quite impressive to know that it can make websites ready - to - go.
